Dear Children, Parents and Carers,

We are now at the end of week 13 of home learning and the finish line for this school year is approaching quickly. You have all done an amazing job to keep going for so long as none of us could have anticipated that the majority of children would be learning at home for so long. There have been so many fantastic photos and posts on Class Dojo over the last 13 weeks that it has been encouraging for all school staff to see how well you have all embraced the challenge of learning in a completely new way. Well done to you all for everything that you have achieved together.

We hope you have all enjoyed our virtual transition day today and that the children are feeling a little more confident about their move into a new class or a new department in September. Please remember that all the staff will be working incredibly hard throughout the autumn term to settle the children back in with their friends, into new routines and re-engage them with their learning. Class Dojo will continue into the autumn term as a way of directly communicating with your child's new teacher so you can feel reassured that you can have regular communication to share any concerns.

Next week's home learning will be a completely unique experience with a different theme each day. Sports' day on Monday is an excellent way of starting the week and I am sure will prove enjoyable and competitive. Thanks to Mr Regan for organising this event. Get your socks at the ready!

It was lovely to see so many children and parents today as reports and books were collected from school. We hope that the children will enjoy looking back over their achievements from earlier in the school year both in their books and in their reports.

On Monday we will be uploading to Dojo, the school app and the website out some initial information about how school will look in September when we fully re-open for all children. Please take some time to read what we will have planned in relation to making our school environment as safe as possible for all our school community.

Children, the summer holidays are almost here. I hope you enjoyed meeting your new teachers on Class Dojo today and it was lovely to see some of you collecting your books. You will always be the best part of any headteacher's job! Keep happy and keep well.

Take care everyone. Many best wishes to you all.
